

MAY YOUR FEARS BE AS SMALL AS YOUR SCARS.

I had hopes and dreams of being the perfect mother to my kids. To hear every note of their piano recitals and to have a towel ready at every swim meet. But chronic pain was always there, pushing me away. I knew I needed a hysterectomy, which scared me. But I'm a born researcher and I discovered Bronson is the only hospital in Kalamazoo with the da Vinci system. I wanted minimally invasive surgery with the latest and greatest technology, and that's exactly what I got. My recovery time was so short and my scars so tiny. Today my kids are busier than ever. And I'm happy to say I'm there too, ready with a warm towel.
